

Books at a Bargain: Supporting Resources

Description

When buying books isn't in the budget, there are other ways to build a family library.

Book Suggestions (the list includes beloved children's classics that are often easy to find second-hand)

We're Going on a Bear Hunt by Helen Oxenbury

The Cat in the Hat by Dr. Seuss

Guess How Much I Love You by Sam McBratney

Owen by Kevin Henkes

Madeline by Ludwig Bemelmans

More Ideas to Try (articles and resources)

- Have I Got a Deal for You! <http://www.pbs.org/parents/booklights/archives/2010/05/have-i-got-a-deal-for-you.html>
- Thursday Three: Thrifty Reading
<http://www.pbs.org/parents/booklights/archives/2010/03/thursday-three-thrifty-reading.html>
- How to Create a Literate Home: Baby and Toddler
<http://www.pbs.org/parents/education/reading-language/reading-tips/how-to-create-a-literate-home-baby-and-toddler/>
- How to Create a Literate Home: Young Child and Kindergartner
<http://www.pbs.org/parents/education/reading-language/reading-tips/how-to-create-a-literate-home-young-child-and-kindergartner/>

Discussion Questions

Where do you like to look for reasonably priced children's books?

Arranging a book exchange with other families costs no money at all – can you think of other families in your community who might be interested in swapping children's books?

The mom in the video clip says that her daughter enjoys reading ebooks. Do you prefer reading books as hard copies or in digital form? What are your favorite sources for finding electronic books?

Where are books available to children in your home? What are your best ideas for storing and organizing children's books?

Visit tpt.org/learn for more tips and resources.